How do I book an appointment?

Patients can book by phone through the voice assistant, through the online patient portal, or by walking in for urgent same-day slots when available. The assistant collects patient name, date of birth, reason for visit, and preferred provider before checking calendar availability.

What information is needed to book?

For new patients: full name, date of birth, phone number, and reason for visit. For returning patients, a phone number or date of birth is usually enough to look up the existing record. Insurance details are collected but are not required to hold the appointment slot.

How far in advance can I book?

Routine appointments can be booked up to 60 days in advance. Same-day and next-day slots are reserved for urgent visits and are released each morning at 8 AM based on provider availability.

Can I request a specific doctor?

Yes. Patients may request a specific provider, but the assistant should inform the caller if that provider's next available slot is more than 5 business days out, and offer the earliest available alternative provider as a faster option.

What if no slots are available?

If no slots match the patient's request within their preferred window, the assistant should offer to add the patient to the waitlist for that provider and notify them automatically if an earlier slot opens due to a cancellation.

How do reminders work?

Patients receive an automated SMS and email reminder 48 hours before their appointment, and a second reminder 3 hours before. Reminders include a link to confirm, reschedule, or cancel.
