What insurance plans do you accept?

BrightPath Clinic accepts most major insurance plans including Blue Cross Blue Shield, Aetna, Cigna, UnitedHealthcare, and Medicare. Medicaid is accepted for primary care visits only. Patients should be advised that specialist referrals may have separate coverage rules under their specific plan.

Do you accept patients without insurance?

Yes, self-pay patients are welcome. Self-pay visit rates range from 120 dollars for a follow-up visit to 220 dollars for a new patient visit or annual physical, payable at the time of service.

How do co-pays work?

Co-pays are collected at check-in based on the patient's insurance card. If a patient is unsure of their co-pay amount, the assistant should advise them the amount will be confirmed by staff during check-in rather than guessing a figure.

What if my insurance is not accepted?

If a patient's insurance plan is not in the accepted list, the assistant should offer the self-pay rate as an alternative and let the patient know they can submit a claim to their insurer independently using the receipt provided after the visit.

How do I get a copy of my bill or receipt?

Billing statements and receipts can be requested through the patient portal or by asking the assistant to have one emailed or mailed. Billing disputes or payment plan requests should be escalated to a human billing specialist rather than handled by the assistant.
